FACTUAL BACKGROUND

8. This action arises from Defendants' unlawful use of Plaintiff's PREVAGEN® trademark.

9. Quincy is a research-based biotechnology company which develops, markets and sells dietary supplements used for, inter alia, the support of cognitive function. Since at least as early as 2007, Quincy has used the trademark PREVAGEN® in commerce in connection to dietary supplements.

10. Quincy's high-quality dietary supplements, including its PREVAGEN® line of dietary supplements, are widely available for retail purchase in brick and mortar stores throughout the United States. Quincy's PREVAGEN® supplements are also widely marketed and distributed by way of various Internet websites.

11. Quincy owns all rights to U.S. Trademark Registration No. 3,349,744 for the PREVAGEN® mark, which is used in connection with "dietary supplements" in International Class 005 and United States Classes 006, 018, 044, 046, 051, and 052. The PREVAGEN® mark was registered on December 4, 2007. By virtue of Quincy's long and continuous use of its mark, the foregoing trademark registration is now legally incontestable pursuant to 15 U.S.C § 1065. A copy of U.S. Trademark Registration No. 3,349,744 is attached hereto as Exhibit A.

12. The use by Quincy of its distinctive PREVAGEN® mark for its quality nutritional supplement product has led Quincy to acquire valuable goodwill and name-recognition within the dietary supplement industry.

13. Quincy's PREVAGEN® product is sold packaged in a single facing box, which contains a bottle of dietary supplements sealed with a plastic safety overwrap and a product information sheet. Both the box and the sheet contain valuable information regarding the product which is not present on the bottle label, including information on the use of the product, answers to frequently asked questions about the product, and a toll-free number for contacting Quincy.

14. Quincy offers a money-back guarantee to purchasers of genuine PREVAGEN® products, which does not extend to purchases from unauthorized sellers of PREVAGEN® products.

15. Defendant QSD sells dietary supplements to customers in the United States and abroad on internet retail websites such as amazon.com (and others) under the seller ID "Quality Sales & Deals," including dietary supplements identified as PREVAGEN® with accompanying pictures of bottles of Plaintiff's PREVAGEN® products, including but not limited to Plaintiff's PREVAGEN® Regular Strength product.

16. Upon information and belief, Defendant QSD has sold dietary supplements identified as Plaintiff's PREVAGEN® Regular Strength product and other PREVAGEN® products in altered packaging which lacks one or more of the security seals, and product information sheets found in or accompanying PREVAGEN® products sold by authorized sellers.

17. The missing money-back guarantee, security seals, and/or product information sheets of Defendant QSD's products each represent a material difference between Plaintiff's PREVAGEN® products and Defendant QSD's products.

18. Defendant Chams is believed to have acted in in concert and in active participation with QSD in the sale and delivery of Defendants QSD's products.

19. Defendants are not authorized dealers of Plaintiff's PREVAGEN® products.

20. Plaintiff has used the PREVAGEN® trademark in connection with dietary supplements since long prior to Defendant QSD's first use thereof.

21. Upon information and belief, Defendants had knowledge of Quincy's prior use and registration of the PREVAGEN® trademark, and acted willfully and with intent to deceive consumers in its adoption and use of the PREVAGEN® mark.

22. On or about December, 2016, Plaintiff notified amazon.com of Defendant QSD's unauthorized sales and requested amazon terminate QSD's listings on amazon.com of goods identified as Plaintiff's PREVAGEN(s) products. Amazon agreed to Plaintiff's request and deactivated such listings.

23. Upon information and belief, one or both of Defendants subsequently contacted Amazon through an e-mail manipulated to appear as it had been sent by Quincy. The email stated that the dispute between Quincy and QSD had been resolved and that Amazon could reinstate QSD's listings. Amazon subsequently restored QSD's listings.

24. Amazon restored QSD's listings as a result of being misled to believe that Quincy had requested that QSD's listings be restored.
